DEAR READER,

Vienna boasts a unique quality of life! It offers loads of attractive leisure facilities, particularly to its young residents and the city's numerous visitors. The "Vienna young & clever" brochure will show you that having a good time in Vienna doesn't have to break the bank!

Whether it's culture, sports, nightlife or food and drink you're after, the wienXtra-jugendinfo team has chosen a selection of the best places to go and provided a lot of useful tips for this brochure, ranging from information about low-priced standing tickets at the Vienna State Opera and secluded pathways on the Cemetery of the Nameless to the hottest clubs in the city. There is something for every taste, from high culture to party and nightlife.

Getting around a city is also an important issue, and the brochure includes practical tips on hiring a bike, the Vienna Citybike scheme and the excellent services provided by the "Wiener Linien", Vienna's transport authorities.

I hope you have fun exploring the city!

INTRODUCTION

Vienna has a lot to offer its visitors! The sheer number of art, culture and leisure activities available in this city often makes it difficult to work out which ones are the best. Considerations like, “What are the best places to go for good food and drink at affordable prices?”, “Which sights are a must see?”, or “What’s the hottest club in the city right now?” often can’t be answered without a certain amount of insider knowledge, making it hard not to get caught in the classic tourist traps. This brochure, however, will help you avoid these places.

This brochure is no classic travel guide, but has been deliberately put together for people who are also interested in city life off the beaten track. Of course, traditional tourist destinations have not been entirely left out of this guide, but it also provides alternatives: places the Viennese love to go to spend their free time. Also, what was important to us was to make sure you get good value for money in these places.

The final decision about what to see and what to leave out in Vienna is up to you. In any case, we hope you have fun and enjoy your stay!

GENERAL INFORMATION

Information centres

wienXtra-jugendinfo

1., Babenbergerstrasse 1, Tel. 01/4000-84 100 www.jugendinfowien.at, <http://foren.wienxtra.at>
Mon, Tue, Wed 2:00-7:00 p.m.
Thu, Fri, Sat 1:00-6:00 p.m.

The information centre for young (and young-at-heart) visitors to our city. We have the answer to any question you might have about budget accommodation, affordable and good food, parties, cheap concert tickets (www.jugendinfowien.at/ticketsmusik/ticketliste), tips for tours to the (un)known attractions of Vienna and many other things worth knowing for a pleasant stay in Vienna! If you want to do your own research, we provide you with an Internet place for free.

wienXtra-kinderinfo

7., Museumsplatz 1/ Hof 2, Tel. 01/4000-84 400
www.kinderinfowien.at (→ broschüren → kids&culture)

info@wien.info

<http://wien.info>

Daily 9:00 a.m.-7:00 p.m.

The tourist information centre not only provides you with a wide variety of information about Vienna, but also with free city maps and other information material on Vienna's sights and attractions. Numerous Vienna tips are also available on the homepage of the Vienna Tourist Board.

Events calendars & Vienna link tips

Falter

www.falter.at (German)

In addition to reports on current issues of city life, Vienna's young weekly newspaper offers the most detailed programme of events in the city. Its homepage provides a good overview of Vienna's nightlife, concerts, theaters, exhibitions, shopping and many more.

A current issue of Falter is always available for research at the wienXtra-jugendinfo centre!

www.vienna.unlike.net

unlike.net covers the city's interesting locations, events and urban themes, capturing the spirit of the city: clubs, shops, restaurants, galleries, parks, museums...

Vienna Events Programme

<http://events.wien.info/en/>

The monthly events programme published by the Vienna Tourist Board provides you with a perfect overview of high-culture events in Vienna. The programme is available at the Tourist Info or at wienextra-jugendinfo. It is also available online.

www.hauptstadt.at (German)

This page provides a complete programme of events and activities in Vienna from all spheres of interest listed by days/categories, a comprehensive list of addresses and a weekly navigator offering detailed descriptions of carefully selected events.

www.wien.gv.at/english

The City of Vienna's website also offers valuable information to Vienna visitors. Have a look at the categories "culture" and "leisure".

www.spottedbylocals.com

On this blog-style city guide, locals share their favourite spots in Vienna.

SIGHTSEEING

All of the large cities in the world are divided into different districts. Vienna has 23 of them, with the first district located right in the centre and the other districts fanning out from it. The individual districts have names such as “Innere Stadt” (1st district) or “Leopoldstadt” (2nd district). However, in most cases they are designated by their numbers and not by their names. Each municipal district has its special character and atmosphere.

So-called “no go areas”, which can be found in many cities, do not exist in Vienna!

Sights in the first district

Vienna is quite rightly considered as a large open-air museum. Numerous sights are conveniently located right in the city centre, i.e. in the first municipal district, which is the oldest part of the city.

 A ride on the 1A bus line not only allows you to explore Vienna's first district for little money, but also gives you the chance to gain a good impression of its residents.

Ringstrasse

From 1857 onwards, a spaciouly laid out street was built around the historical city centre featuring prestigious public buildings, private palaces, squares and parks, monuments and elegant cafés. Here you can admire some of the most splendid buildings in Vienna, such as the State Opera, the Museum of Art History, the Museum of Natural History, the Parliament building or Vienna's City Hall.

A stroll through Vienna's largest "open-air museum" is an absolute must for all visitors to Vienna interested in historical architecture. Fearless cyclists should definitely go for a ride on the Ring cycle path which circles around the whole city centre.

😊 Around Christmas, the square in front of Vienna's City Hall houses the city's largest Christmas market! In July and August, it is the venue of an open-air film festival featuring opera performances, ballet, world music and jazz. Free entry!

😊 Tram line 1 takes you comfortably along a major part of Ringstrasse, from Schwedenplatz to Kärntner Ring. All you need is a standard Wiener Linien ticket. The more expensive alternative is a ride on the Vienna Ring Tram, which was designed especially for tourists. Ticket prices are rather steep: a ride around Ringstrasse (approx. 30 minutes) will cost you € 7,-!

If you want to relax after an exhausting sightseeing tour, the historical parks along Ringstrasse, such as Burggarten, Volksgarten or Stadtpark, could be just the places you are looking for. If you prefer a classier environment, go for a quick coffee or refreshment to the Palm House in Burggarten. The café's higher prices are more than made up for by its attractive location in an old greenhouse and its fabulous outdoor area.

Kärntner Straße

If Paris has its Champs Elysées and Berlin has its Kurfürstendamm, Vienna has its Kärntner Strasse. In addition to a large number of luxury shops, it features beautiful historical buildings and a lot of street cafés. Great for window shopping and leisurely strolls!

Stephansplatz (St. Stephen's Square)

Right in the middle of the city centre, this large square is a meeting place for tourists from all over the world.

During the summer months, it also serves as a stage to numerous street artists. Just enjoy the bustling atmosphere or visit St. Stephen's Cathedral, one of Vienna's landmarks. However, if peace and quiet is what you're after, you'd better visit one of the many churches in the vicinity.

 Another oasis of peace and quiet can be found in the cobblestone lanes to the east of St. Stephen's Cathedral. This is the oldest part of Vienna. The most attractive area, leading along Blutgasse, Domgasse and Grünnergasse, is situated right behind St. Stephen's Cathedral.

Imperial Palace

www.hofburg-wien.at, Tel. 01/533 75 70

Up to 1918, the Imperial Palace was the centre of the huge Habsburg Empire. Today, the Palace is one of Vienna's classic tourist attractions. With its Sisi Museum, the Imperial Treasury and the Spanish Riding School it really embodies all of the typical stereotypes of Vienna. If you are interested in art, the Albertina is a must (see page 33).

While the interior of the Imperial Palace is buzzing with tourists, Heldenplatz square in front of the Palace during the warm season is a bustling meeting place of young people who use the square for outdoor entertainment such as football, music, juggling and dancing.

😊 As the tickets for the Imperial Apartments are rather expensive, we recommend those of you who also plan to visit the apartments of Schönbrunn Palace just to visit one of the two places. At both palaces, the apartments' style and furniture date from the same period (Baroque).

Sights outside Vienna's first district

Belvedere Palace

www.belvedere.at, Tel. 01/79 557-0

Belvedere Palace, a magnificent Baroque palace located in Vienna's third municipal district, was the former summer residence of Austria's famous military leader and art lover, Prince Eugene. It is renowned for its splendid view, which is the reason why it was named Belvedere (= beautiful view).

Free entry to the palace gardens!

Belvedere Palace houses one of the major art collections in Austria, including the world's largest collection of paintings by Gustav Klimt. For more detailed information see page 34.

 If you want to relax after taking in all the art and culture in the museum, simply stroll through the 8-hectar Botanic Gardens right next to the palace grounds. The entry into the Gardens is free!

Karlsplatz

The spacious square in front of the Baroque Karlskirche (St. Charles' Church) is a special highlight of the city. With its white stone slabs and large fountain it radiates the flair of historical Italian squares, particularly during the summer months. In the run-up to Christmas, it houses a charming Christmas Arts and Craft Market. The Art Nouveau pavilion built by Otto Wagner, which today accommodates a café turned into a club in the evenings (see page 64), is located a few metres further towards the road. Karlsplatz also houses the Wien Museum (see page 40) with interesting exhibitions on topics relating to Vienna.

MQ MuseumsQuartier

www.mqw.at, Tel. 0820/600 600

Vienna's spectacular arts centre near the Imperial Palace boasts not only prominent museums and galleries (more detailed information is provided from page 33 onwards), but also a bustling café and restaurant scene. If you want to enjoy good food at the MQ, try the "Kantine" or "Glacis Beisl". For more detailed information see page 53.

From May to August, the MQ offers a comprehensive cultural programme entitled "Summer at MuseumsQuartier", featuring art, culture, theatre, music, dance, performances and literature. Other attractions include the popular boules tracks and sunny restaurant terraces with trendy music. In the pre-Christmas season, the Museums-Quartier stages its "Winter at MQ" programme, providing an alternative to conventional Christmas-market kitsch.

 Its numerous outdoor seating facilities make the MQ attractive also for visitors on smaller budgets. In this way, you can happily watch the busy world of creative minds and artsy people while eating whatever snack you have brought with you.

Schönbrunn Palace

www.schoenbrunn.at, Tel. 01/811 13-0

Schönbrunn Palace, the former summer residence of Austria's Imperial Family, is one of the most beautiful Baroque palaces in Europe. While a ticket for admission to the imperial apartments costs at least € 10,50, a stroll through the lavish gardens is free. One of the highlights of such a stroll is the Gloriette, which is located on a small hill and offers a superb view of Vienna.

Other attractions (you have to pay for) include the Great Palm House, the Desert House, the Maze & Labyrinth and (for animal lovers) Schönbrunn Zoo (www.zoovienna.at). During the Christmas season, the palace provides the setting for a festive Christmas market.

😊 It is also possible to enjoy Schönbrunn Palace without spending any money. If you cannot or do not want to pay the admission fees, simply go for a leisurely stroll through the magnificent park and soak up the beauty and splendour of the place.

Volkspriater/Wurstelprater

www.prater.at

This amusement park has everything, from carnival games and ghost trains to roller coasters. In addition, long-established traditional restaurants, such as the Schweizerhaus (see page 58), add to its typical Viennese charm.

The Prater also houses another landmark of the city: the more than 110-year-old and 64.75-metre-high Ferris wheel. At its highest point, it offers its passengers (unless they are terrified of heights) a brilliant view of Vienna. Tickets cost € 9,-.

The Wurstelprater amusement park is located right in the middle of a large recreational area (see page 27).

😊 While a ride on one of the Prater's attractions costs between 2,- € and 5,- €, admission to the amusement park is free!

OFF THE BEATEN TRACKS

Vienna has a lot more to offer than its traditional tourist hotspots. If you leave the well-trodden tourist paths, you will discover many new and interesting facets of the city. Anyone interested in getting to know the true character of a city will often find it reflected in exactly these areas.

Old AKH (General Hospital) – University Campus

<http://campus.univie.ac.at>

The grounds of today's university campus in Vienna's 9th district – known as the Old AKH – originally belonged to what used to be the Vienna General Hospital. Today, the campus accommodates parts of the University of Vienna's faculties of Arts and Social Sciences. And since university students don't just pursue their studies but also love to party, a lively café and restaurant scene has emerged in this area. In summer, this pleasant oasis of green right in the heart of the city is the ideal place to relax or have a picnic.

 A more remote part of the campus houses the seemingly forgotten Fools' Tower, which was built in 1748. It was the first specialist facility for the mentally ill in Europe. Today it accommodates the Federal Museum of Pathology and Anatomy. With its strict geometric shape and lack of any adornment it belongs to Vienna's less-known architectural treasures.

Freihausviertel

www.einkaufsstrassen.at/freihausviertel (German)

The “Freihausviertel” is an area located in the 4th municipal district surrounding Schleifmühlgasse and the neighbouring streets between Wiedner Hauptstrasse, Naschmarkt and Karlsplatz. In the past ten years, the Freihausviertel has become a flourishing part of Vienna, providing a home to the city’s contemporary art scene. Galleries, fashion designers, a unique flower shop, antique shops and a colourful mix of bars, cafés and restaurants (see page 61) have turned the area into a lively and vibrating neighbourhood! Its close proximity to the Naschmarkt also contributed to the area’s upswing.

The area was named after the so-called “Freihaus”, the oldest social housing complex in Vienna, which used to be situated there.

 The “Point of Sale”, a great place for breakfast, is situated in the Freihausviertel (for more detailed information see page 59).

Karmeliterviertel

The Karmeliterviertel in Vienna’s 2nd municipal district has also experienced a boom in the past few years, resulting in a thriving gastronomic and cultural scene. Due to its many old buildings and typical narrow lanes the area has a very special urban charm. Moreover, the Karmeliterviertel was and still is the centre of Vienna’s Jewish Community.

The heart of the area is the Karmelitermarkt, where you cannot only buy loads of foodstuff, but will also find great places for food and drink (see “Schöne Perle” on page 58).

Augarten

<http://kultur.park.augarten.org> (German)

A special highlight on the edge of the Karmeliterviertel is the Baroque “Augarten” park, which houses not only Vienna’s Augarten Porcelain Manufactory, but also the residences of the Vienna Boys Choir. Another prominent feature of Augarten Park is its two 50-metre-high Flak towers, serving as monumental reminders of World War 2.

😊 During the summer months, the park is a popular meeting place of Vienna’s young alternative scene. There is also a whole load of cultural activities taking place in a casual, laid back atmosphere. More detailed information on the individual events is available on the website!

Neubau

Vienna’s 7th municipal district (called Neubau) has become the city’s creative and boho district. Here you can find not only the centre of Vienna’s cultural scene, the MuseumsQuartier (see pages 14, 36) but also a large number of second-hand shops and hip fashion stores on Neubaugasse and its side streets.

In terms of culinary delights, the district also has plenty on offer (see “Food and Drink” from page 53 onwards). And it is the location of Vienna’s longest shopping street, Mariahilfer Strasse, which, unlike Neubaugasse, mostly features large chain stores.

The Spittelberg area, also part of the district of Neubau, is a charming area with cobblestone lanes and Biedermeier buildings. Previously, this part of the city was a red-light district, but today it is dominated by arts and craft shops and bars.

Around Christmas, the Spittelberg tempts with what is probably the most magical Christmas market in Vienna.

Markets

Naschmarkt

www.wienernaschmarkt.eu (German)

Although Naschmarkt today is an attraction rather than a market, you can buy anything there, from fruit, vegetables, bakery products, fish and meat to international products from different countries. Nowadays, the numerous gourmet temples increasingly outnumber traditional market stalls, so that, due to its wealth of trendy eateries, Naschmarkt has developed into a hip hotspot of the city. If you want to experience the Naschmarkt as it used to be, grab a bite at “Zur eisernen Zeit”, a typical Viennese restaurant full of atmosphere and Naschmarkt nostalgia!

😊 A must-see event at Naschmarkt is the flea market held every Saturday from 6:30 a.m.-6:00 p.m. Virtually everything is on sale here! But be careful: All that glitters is not gold! If you don't watch out, you may be easily cheated out of your money.

Brunnenmarkt

Somewhat less mainstream and less trendy, the multi-culti market in Vienna's district of Ottakring (16th municipal district) is a good alternative to the increasingly commercial and stylish Naschmarkt. Its mix of artists and Turkish and Greek stall holders lend the market its unique character. If you want to venture into one of the rougher parts of Vienna, we recommend a visit to Brunnenmarkt. Also worth a visit: Vienna's legendary Turkish restaurant “Kent” or “Restaurant World” (for further information see page 56 onwards).

😊 Every year in mid-May, the area around Brunnenmarkt houses the “Soho in Ottakring” arts and culture festival (www.sohoinottakring.at).

Cemeteries in Vienna

Vienna's special relationship with death resonates throughout the city. A splendid funeral attended by a large number of mourners is a genuine tradition in Vienna.

Zentralfriedhof (Central Cemetery)

www.friedhofewien.at

In addition to its numerous honorary graves (Ludwig van Beethoven, Johann Strauss, Franz Schubert and many more), the cemetery features the Dr.-Karl-Lueger Memorial Church (Dr.-Karl-Lueger-Gedächtniskirche), a beautiful Art Nouveau church.

The cemetery is located outside the city centre, but can be conveniently reached by tram lines 6 and 71.

Cemetery of the Nameless

<http://vienna.unlike.net/locations/301561-Friedhof-der-Namenlosen>

The Cemetery of the Nameless at the port of Albern, where the unknown bodies washed up by the Danube were laid to rest, is a romantic wilderness of old graves, flowers and trees. The cemetery's last burial took place in 1940. Since it is so remote, you won't "stumble across it", but have to "head for it". Cross the dam and you will be alone with the nameless. The best way to approach the cemetery is to take tram line 71 and get off at Hauffgasse. Then take the 76 bus to Alberner Hafen.

 The nearby "Gasthaus zum Friedhof der Namenlosen" and its substantial Viennese cuisine help you to return to the living world.

GETTING OUT INTO NATURE

If you need some time-out from sightseeing, museums and nightlife, Vienna offers plenty of opportunities to recharge your batteries.

Hiking

Information is available at: www.wien.gv.at/english/leisure/hiking or www.wien.info/en/sightseeing/green-vienna

Lainzer Tiergarten (Lainz Nature Reserve)

For decades, this former hunting ground of Austria's imperial family has been a popular recreational area. At Lainz Nature Reserve animals run around freely, making it very likely that you will see wild boars and other animals that live in the wood.

There are several entrances to the nature reserve. The entrance that can be reached most easily is Nikolaitor. Take the U4 underground line and get off at Hütteldorf (terminus); from there it's a 10-minute walk to the nature reserve. Another option is to enter the reserve through Lainzer Tor. Take the U4 to Hietzing, change to tram line 60 and get off at Hermesstrasse, then take the B60 bus to Lainzer Tor. The nature reserve is open daily during the warm season. From the beginning of November to mid-February visitors can only access the park surrounding Hermesvilla.

 Admission to the Lainz Nature Reserve is free.

Vienna Woods

www.wien.info/en/sightseeing/excursions/vienna-woods

The Vienna Woods are crisscrossed by a network of well-marked walking and hiking trails making it an ideal recreational area that can be easily accessed by Vienna's public transport.

😊 A scenic hiking trail, City Hiking Trail 1, leads from the end of tram line D (Beethovengang) through Vienna's vineyards to Kahlenberg and back. On the way you can visit one of the famous "Heurigen" wine taverns (see page 59). The walk takes approx. 3.5 to 4 hours. Detailed information on the hiking trails is provided at www.wien.gv.at/english/leisure/hiking/index.htm

The hills of the Vienna Woods include Vienna's local mountains, Leopoldsberg and Kahlenberg, which offer a splendid view over the city, the vineyards and the Vienna Woods.

Kahlenberg and Leopoldsberg can be conveniently reached by taking the 38A bus from Heiligenstadt (end of U4 line).

😊 Climbing Kahlenberg can make you work up quite a sweat during summer. Cool off by taking a dip in the nearby Krapfenwaldbad pool (see page 29).

Go green and sporty

Old Danube

www.alte-donau.info/olddanube.htm

Within easy reach of Vienna's city centre (U1 to Alte Donau), the Old Danube is a recreational area much loved by Vienna's citizens. Rowing, electric, pedal and sailing boats, which are all available for hire, glide gently through the water. When temperatures get too high, the public riverside bathing pools provide welcome relief from the heat.

The legendary Gänsehäufel bathing pool (see page 28) is especially worth visiting. Numerous cafés and restaurants on the banks of the Danube, many of which can be directly accessed from the water, provide the perfect setting for waterside relaxation.

Angeliwiese is a free swimming spot with some facilities (public toilet, drinking water) located between Birnersteig and Romaplatz. Nearby you find the riverside restaurant "Birner" with its rustic suburban charm and authentic Viennese cooking.

To get there, take the underground line U6 and get off at Neue Donau.

 The Old Danube is an idyllic place away from the hustle and bustle of big-city life and is the perfect spot for romantic souls. Its delightful atmosphere is best enjoyed in the evening hours. If you don't believe it, go and see for yourself!

Donauinsel (Danube Island)

www.wien.gv.at/english/leisure/recreation/donauinsel.htm

The Donauinsel recreational area is perfect for a whole range of activities: sunbathing, walking, running, rollerblading, cycling, swimming, windsurfing, rowing or just enjoying the sun — take your pick! If you want to make a splash for free outside Vienna's swimming pools, this is the right place for you.

A cycling path which is several kilometers long provides perfect conditions for cyclists, runners and rollerbladers.

A lively bar and restaurant scene offers evening and nighttime entertainment, particularly during the summer months. Donauinsel also scores top marks with its convenient location: the U1 (get off at Donauinsel) or U6 (get off at Neue Donau) underground lines take you there directly in next to no time.

 The absolute highlight of Donauinsel entertainment is the Donauinsel festival (www.donauinselfest.at), which takes place every year during a weekend in June and attracts up to three million visitors. The programme ranges from alternative rock and pop hits from the charts to cheesy commercial music and cabaret, all performed on more than 20 stages on the island. Admission is free!

Prater

www.wien.gv.at/english/environment/parks/prater.html

With its large meadows, woods and lakes, the Prater is a popular recreational area right in the heart of Vienna. While runners and cyclists take over the 4.5 kilometre Prater-Hauptallee (the main boulevard through the Prater), the grassy areas off the Hauptallee are ideal for all kinds of ball sports. The Prater can be reached by taking the U1 underground line (get off at Praterstern) and walking the remaining distance or by tram line 1 (get off at Prater-Hauptallee). When you get off the tram, you'll already find yourself surrounded by green.

SPORTS IN VIENNA

A comprehensive guide to sports activities in Vienna is available at:
www.wien.gv.at/english/environment-leisure/sports

Outdoor swimming pools

A good overview of Vienna's outdoor swimming pools and their opening hours is provided at:

www.wien.gv.at/english/leisure/bath/index.htm

Gänsehäufel

22., Moissigasse 21, Tel. 01/269 90 16

Vienna's long-established Gänsehäufel riverside bathing pool is today one of the largest swimming pools in the city. It features not only a wave pool, but also boasts a big water slide.

Its numerous sporting facilities can be used for all sorts of popular sporting activities.

The best way to get to the Gänsehäufel is to take the U1 line to Kaiser-mühlen and then either walk (10 minutes) or take the free shuttle bus to the Gänsehäufel.

Price: day pass € 5,-/afternoon pass (from 1 p.m.) € 3,90

Krapfenwaldbad

19., Krapfenwaldgasse 65-73, Tel. 01/320 15 01

People don't just go to Krapfenwaldbad to swim (the pools are rather small), but also to enjoy the amazing view of Vienna. Other people think the main reason to go there is actually to see Vienna's rich and beautiful.

To get to the swimming pool take bus 38 A from the end of the U4 line (Heiligenstadt) and get off at Krapfenwaldgasse.

Price: day pass € 5,-/afternoon pass (from 1:00 p.m.) € 3,90

 Even if you're not interested in catching a glimpse of "the rich and the beautiful", the swimming pool is really worth a visit if only for the great view it offers of Vienna.

Indoor swimming pools

A good listing of Vienna's indoor swimming pools is provided at:
www.wien.gv.at/english/leisure/bath/bathlist.htm

Amalienbad

10., Reumannplatz 23, Tel. 01/607 47 47

Second only to Jörgerbad, Amalienbad, which was opened in 1926, is probably the most beautiful indoor pool in Vienna.

Price: day pass (5 hours) € 5,-/short-time pass (2.5 hours) € 3,90

Jörgerbad

17., Jörgerstrasse 42-44, Tel. 01/406 43 05

This swimming pool, which was built in 1914, features an 88-metre long and very fast slide. In summer, there is also an outdoor area for sunbathing and a small outdoor pool.

Price: day pass (5 hours) € 5,-/short-time pass (2.5 hours) € 3,90

Stadthallenbad

15., Vogelweidplatz 15, Tel. 01/98 100

www.stadthalle.com/locations/stadthallenbad/9

With its 50-metre pool, Stadthallenbad is the perfect place for ambitious water sports enthusiasts.

Currently closed due to renovation.

Please check the homepage for the reopening!

Therme Wien

10., Kurbadstrasse 14, Tel. 01/680 09

www.thermewien.at/informationen/english

Enjoy a day of pampering in Vienna at Oberlaa thermal spa!

Price: day pass € 22,70/short-time passes at lower prices.

Ice skating in Vienna

Opera/Classical Concerts/Theatre/Musical

Vienna is the city of high culture – and of high prices for tickets to high-culture events.

But if you take a closer look, it's not that difficult to see a sensational opera performance starring Anna Netrebko or the latest musical at a knock-down price.

The Vienna Tourist Board's events data base at <http://events.wien.info/english/EventSearch.htm> provides an excellent overview of the most important cultural events in Vienna.

 The Wiener Festwochen Festival (www.festwochen.at), which takes place every year between May and June, offers top-quality music and theatre performances, including numerous debut performances, new productions and European premieres, partly in other languages than German.

The following pages provide you with information about the major cultural attractions in Vienna:

Opera

Cinema

If the weather is bad or if there's just not much going on in the city, a trip to the cinema might be just the thing, particularly as a small but sophisticated arthouse scene has established itself in Vienna, providing an artistic contrast to the city's numerous multiplex cinema chains. Many cinemas have also become a key attraction of Vienna's nightlife.

😊 Every year, from the middle to the end of October, Vienna hosts Austria's major film festival, the "Viennale" festival (www.viennale.at). The programme includes premiers, retrospectives and documentaries in original language. Be sure to buy your tickets in time!

FOOD AND DRINK

As you are bound to get hungry at some point during your stay in Vienna and probably want to avoid the classic tourist traps, we have a few tips for you.

Like other large cities in Europe, Vienna offers you plenty of opportunities to sample cuisines from every corner of the world. Yet despite this internationalisation, many establishments in Austria and particularly in Vienna serve typical Austrian cuisine. It can be found both in small Viennese “Beisl” and in elegant restaurants.

An excellent guide to Vienna’s restaurants and the famous Viennese “Kaffeehäuser” is provided in the section “Wien wie es isst” at www.falter.at (German) or at <http://vienna.unlike.net!>

The establishments presented below are tips provided by staff members of wienXtra-jugendinfo, ranging from low-priced student eateries to more exclusive restaurants for a special evening out.

Since travel funds are usually limited, our focus was on good value at affordable prices.

 Many establishments in Vienna offer special lunches. These meals are usually served between 12:00 noon and 2:30 p.m. and provide excellent value for money. For a price of around € 6,-, you can eat your fill at many restaurants!

Eating out at low prices

One of the cheapest ways to eat out in Vienna is to have a meal at one of Vienna's university refectories. In the last few years, they have refurbished their image with regard to quality and variety of choice!

Afro-Asiatische Mensa

9., Türkenstrasse 3, Tel. 0699/18 17 51 44, www.aai-wien.at (German)

One of the three winners of the 2011 refectory test by the newspaper
"Kurier"!

Mensa Markt der WU Wien

9., Augasse 2-6, Tel. 01/310 57 18, www.mensen.at (German)
Mon-Fri 8:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m.
buffet breakfast; cold and hot buffet lunch, set lunches (Mon-Fri 11:00 a.m.-2:30 p.m.)

Low-priced but good cafés and restaurants

If you want a change from refectory food in your holidays, try one of Vienna's classic student "Beisl". They offer great food at low prices!

Café Rüdigerhof

5., Hamburgerstrasse 20, Tel. 01/586 31 38
Open daily from 9:00 a.m.-2:00 a.m., café with a very pleasant and homely atmosphere in a beautiful Art Nouveau building, home-style meals and home-made desserts. A special highlight during the warm season is the café's fabulously large natural garden.

Centimeter I (for other branches see their website)

8., Lenaugasse 11 Tel. 01/470 060 641, www.centimeter.at (German)

 Sat 11:00 a.m.-1:00 a.m., Sun and public holidays 11:00 a.m.-12:00 midnight, pub and restaurant with a rustic barn atmosphere, huge portions.

Der Wiener Deewan

9., Liechtensteinstrasse 10, Tel. 01/925 11 85
 Mon-Sat 11:00 a.m.-11:00 p.m., new urban-style Pakistani restaurant serving excellent cuisine!

😊 "Der Wiener Deewan" is a "Pay-as-you-wish" restaurant which has a somewhat laissez-faire approach to prices. Guests only pay the price they want to pay or can afford! (Set prices for beverages!)

Kantine m101

7., MuseumsQuartier Tel. 01/596 51 73, www.kantine.at (German)
 Mon-Fri 8:00 a.m.-1:00 a.m., Sat 10:00 a.m.-1:00 a.m., Sun, public holidays closed, Kantine serves excellent and affordable international cuisine in a relaxed and pleasant atmosphere. Beautiful garden!

Excellent but affordable restaurants

Vienna has loads of excellent and affordable restaurants. And since holidays are the time to splash out on a special treat, we have provided a brief overview below:

Wiener Küche

Alt Wiener Gastwirtschaft Schilling

7., Burggasse 103, Tel. 01/524 17 75, www.schilling-wirt.at (German)
Open daily from 11:00 a.m.-12:00 midnight., beautifully preserved old restaurant boasting a magnificent old bar; large menu, excellent Viennese cuisine

Schweizerhaus

2., Straße-des-Ersten-Mai 116/Prater, Tel. 01/728 01 52-13
www.schweizerhaus.at

Mon-Fri 11:00 a.m.-11:00 p.m., Sat, Sun, public holidays 10:00 a.m.-11:00 p.m.

Open from 15 March to 31 October; located in the heart of the Wurschtlprater amusement park, this traditional Viennese establishment is particularly famous for its grilled knuckle of pork and great draught beer, beautiful garden

Schöne Perle

2., Große Pfarrgasse 2/at the corner of Leopoldsgasse, Tel. 0664/243 35 93, www.schoene-perle.at

Mon-Fri 12:00 noon-11:00 p.m.; Sat, Sun 10:00 a.m.-11:00 p.m.
Organic products, breakfast on Sat & Sun, outdoor area

International cuisine

Il Sestante

8., Piaristengasse 50, Tel. 01/402 98 94, www.sestante.at (German)
Open daily 11:30 a.m.-11:30 p.m., excellent Italian cuisine focusing on regional specialties from Calabria, boasting a marvellous outdoor area on a beautiful old Viennese square.

Ramien

6., Gumpendorfer Strasse 9, Tel. 01/585 47 98
www.ramien.at (German)
Tue-Sun 11:00 a.m.-12:00 midnight, large and bright Asian restaurant in cool design; basement houses a dance lounge.

Xu's Cooking

7., Kaiserstrasse 45, Tel. 01/523 10 91, www.xus-cooking.at
Mon-Sun 11:30 a.m.-3:00 p.m. and 5:30 p.m.-11:00 p.m.
vegetarian specialties from Taiwan

Heuriger (traditional Viennese wine-taverns)

Weinbau Zawodsky

19., Reinischgasse 3, Tel. 01/320 79 782, www.zawodsky.at (German)
To get there, take tram line 38 (stop: Paradisgasse). For opening hours check the homepage or call ahead.

Buschenschank Wagner

19., Wildgrube 48, Tel. 0650/738 00 03, www.wildgrube48.at (German)
This insider tip is located outdoors directly in the vineyards. To get there, take tram line 38 (stop: Grinzing). For opening hours check the homepage or call ahead.

10er Marie

16., Ottakringer Straße 222-224, Tel. 01/489 46 47

www.fuhrgassl-huber.at

Mon-Sat 15:00-24:00, Sun closed

To get there, take tram line 46 (stop: Thaliastraße/Maroltingergasse) or tram line 2 (stop: Johannes-Krawarik-Gasse).

Brunch & Breakfast

Fancy stretching out breakfast and brunch until well into the late afternoon? Then the following establishments are the right places to go:

Europa

7., Zollergasse 8, Tel. 01/526 33 83, www.europa-lager.at (German)

Open daily from 9:00 a.m.-5:00 a.m., The Europa has become an “extended living room” for many locals in Vienna’s 7th municipal district. Sun, public holidays: buffet breakfast; during the week, the Europa serves everything from Viennese and whole food breakfast to a traditional English fry-up; outdoor area in boldly modern design.

Point of Sale

4., Operngasse 36, Tel. 01/890 22 48 15

www.thepointofsale.at (German)

Open daily from 7:00 a.m.-1:00 a.m., popular breakfast and brunch establishment in the Freihausviertel area, outdoor area.

NIGHTLIFE

Whilst Vienna's nightlife was something of a non-starter during the '80's, the early 90's saw a small but first-rate clubbing scene develop. This was driven mostly by the success of Vienna's electronic scene (for example Kruder and Dorfmeister), which still dominates in many clubs. Here are some pointers to the most important clubs in the city!

Adriawien

1., Donaukanal, Tel. 0660/312 47 03, www.adriawien.at

Even though it's not advisable to take a swim near this "beach bar", this relaxed beach spot with its summerly atmosphere, cocktail bar and chill out music right in the city is predestined to brighten one's mood.

Arena

3., Baumgasse 80, Tel. 01/798 85 95, www.arena.co.at (German)

After its bloody decades as an abattoir, the time had come to make something out of the Arena. Originally taken over by squatters, the Arena then became a semi-autonomous cultural center and since then has become THE cult location for punk, rock, hardcore, alternative, indie, ska, electronic and pretty much any music guaranteed to put you in the mood to party!

B72

8., Hernalser Gürtelbogen 72, Tel. 01/409 21 28, www.b72.at (German)
The young side of the U6 arches! Indie, alternative, hip-hop and more in the club where you can be sure that an underground train will thunder over your head and it won't even hurt!

Badeschiff

1., Donaukanal between Schwedenbrücke and Urania
Tel. 0660/158 67 18, www.badeschiff.at (German)
Vienna's new navy! Or, better put, the amazing transformation of a discarded barge from the Danube into one of the hippest locations in the city. The water of the Danube flowing past the Badeschiff looks somewhat uninviting when compared to the swimming pool on the top deck. The bottom deck, in what used to be the barge's hold, rocks to electro, techno and indie beats.

Café Carina

8., Josefstädter Strasse 84, Tel. 0699/818 346 58
www.cafe-carina.at (German)
What usually happens when a train station restaurant (in this case an old tube station pub) gets taken over? Absolutely nothing! Right? This case, however, is different. With live acts you've never heard of taking to the stage every day, free entry, sometimes with voluntary donations after the gig, a really mixed crowd in the audience, the whole thing is a bit crazy...but not without its charm!

Café Leopold

7., Museumsplatz 1, Tel. 01/523 67 32, www.cafe-leopold.at (German)
Well, aren't we looking smart today?! The café is a hit with tourists during the day, with its top location in hot spot Museumsquartier, and is the meeting place for the city's marketing crowd, but transforms itself in the evening: the volume gets pumped up, the beats start to drop and house, techno and the like take over. The only common theme is the "Well, aren't we looking smart today?!"...Style meets beats in MuQua.

Café Willendorf

6., Linke Wienzeile 102, Tel. 01/587 17 89
www.cafe-willendorf.at (German)

The queen of Vienna's gay and lesbian scene is Café Willendorf. As the food here is also top-notch, the place is always packed. If possible, call to reserve in advance!

Chelsea

8., Lerchenfelder Gürtel/Gürtelbogen 29-31, Tel. 01/407 93 09, www.chelsea.co.at

The veteran of the clubs on Vienna's Gürtel! Before it had even occurred to anyone that the space beneath the loud underground line would be ideal for noisier events, one music and football maniac had already set up camp here and delivered the starting shot to "legends live longer". The music ranges from intimate indie concerts to 80's party (Fridays), alternative and dancehall reggae and you can still watch all the important footie matches on the widescreen.

Club U

4., Karlsplatz (in the Künstlerhaus passage), Tel. 01/505 99 04
www.club-u.at

During the day, Club U in the Künstlerhaus passage is a café...at night it turns into a chilled and funky location for indie, new electronica, soul and other crazy sounds underneath the Künstlerhaus.

Flex

1., Donaukanal (at Augartenbrücke), Tel. 01/533 75 25
www.flex.at

Flex has established itself over the years as one of the top locations when it comes to techno, alternative and thumping electronic music. In the distant past, Flex was part of the roughest underground scene but today it has earned its place in the alternative mainstream. The old underground line tunnels on the Danube canal are a top location.

FlucWanne

2., Praterstern 5, www.fluc.at (German)

What do the poor old pedestrians do now? The underpass which was intended for them was walled up, a door built into it and the cult Fluc, which previously resided in several containers above the underpass, suddenly had a location for concerts and massive parties with electro, bass, electronic new year's firecrackers and avant-garde sounds. Visually, Fluc sticks religiously to steel and concrete and what the pedestrians do? Well...no idea, but there's been nothing in the papers about any bloodbaths in the streets yet!

ost klub

4., Schwarzenbergplatz 10, Tel. 01/505 62 28, www.ost-klub.at
When ost klub opened its doors, nobody thought it would last...Balkan groove in Vienna, Russian Disco on Schwarzenbergplatz? How wrong they were! A success story taking in blasts of Balkan brass, gypsy sounds, oriental funk, ska and a whole load of subgenres in a stylish setting and at reasonable prices.

Passage

1., Babenberger Passage, Tel. 01/961 88 00, www.sunshine.at
Underground, straight-and-up house competes with Alpine kitsch, 80's nostalgia and a clientele, which doesn't seem to care about the music. This is the place to see and be seen right under the Ring.

Porgy & Bess

1., Riemergasse 11, Tel. 01/512 88 11, www.porgy.at
The city centre is dead musically? Rubbish! A genuine temple of urban music culture can be found in the midst of the otherwise quiet streets between Kärntnerstrasse and Stadtpark in a former nightclub, which oozes flair and style. Progressive jazz and electronic-heavy party in the city centre.

Pratersauna

2., Waldsteingartenstraße 13 (Prater Hauptallee), Tel. 01/72 91 927
www.pratersauna.tv

Partying in a sauna surrounded by nature? In a metropolis? It's possible in the Pratersauna! Although taking a sauna there is not an option any longer, the hippest sounds ranging from electronic to indie will surely bring party people out in a sweat. Sometimes it's even possible to cool off in the pool. The term "hot spot" is definitely justified in this case.

Rhiz

8., Gürtelbogen 37&38, Tel. 01/409 25 05, <http://rhiz.org>

Cult club in the Avant garde and electrifying Bohemia scene! "Blubber-sound" electronic music, relaxed and funky beats, people who spend the whole night reading books whilst everyone else dances and engages in lively discussions next to them. Living room meets nightclub, recorder meets electronic, home organs sway to the beat of pulsating percussion. The club with a difference!

Schikaneder

4., Margaretenstrasse 24, Tel. 01/585 28 67
www.schikaneder.at (German)

What do you do if you've just gone and bought a cinema and realised that it's the film distributors who make all the money and that cinema audiences aren't interested in small venues? You put your thinking cap on and convert the foyer into a bar and club, get some cool people from the music scene who have no shame when it comes to disco, electronic and indie to take over the turntables and, well, you live with it!

Strandbar Hermann

1., Donaukanal (U1/U4 station Schwedenplatz at Urania)
Tel. 0688/866 60 36, www.strandbarherrmann.at (German)

Crowned as one of three hotspots (not just in Vienna but in Europe) by various magazines, if you manage to find a free spot, this is the place to bury your toes in the Sand, lie under a sunshade, drink a few cocktails and enjoy the sun with everyone else whilst complaining about the quality of the water...Sand unfortunately doesn't always mean there's a sea nearby, but sometimes just water that flows by...

Viper Room

3., Landstrasser Hauptstrasse 38, www.viper-room.at (German)
Quite a few floors below the Landstrasse, there is a vault where it's not a good idea to ask the DJ to play some hip-hop, but better a track from the broad genre of metal, dark wave, EBM, Goth, Doom – they've pretty much got everything covered.

Volksgarten

1., Burgring, Tel. 01/532 42 41, www.volksgarten.at (German)

Glitz, glamour and sophistication...this dance temple for the rich and beautiful (or wannabees) has been around for decades and is the place for them to shake their hips to chart anthems, R'n'B, techno beats or dancehall reggae.

WUK

9., Währinger Strasse 59, Tel. 01/401 21-0, www.wuk.at

In a former life a school, this culture building is home to a range of multifunctional studios covering pretty much everything from a human rights organisation to a bike shop. There is also one of the best stages in the city with a brilliant handpicked programme of indie, alternative, songwriter, hip-hop and electronic sounds.

Discos

Empire Club

1., Rotgasse 9, Tel. 0664/392 99 89, www.empire-club.at (German)
Glitzy club playing techno chart anthems, R'n'B and the like in the heart of the city.

Prater Dome

2., Riesenradplatz 7, Tel. 01/908 11 92 900
www.praterdome.at (German)
Kitsch doesn't just do well in souvenir shops but also at Europe's biggest dance floor with techno, dance hits from the charts as well as Alpine fun on several incredible dancefloors.

Club Couture

22., Wagramer Strasse 79, Tel. 01/204 31 14
www.clubcouture.at (German)
Gabba gabba yeah ... the legend won't die ...

Titanic

6., Theobaldgasse 11, www.titanic.at
An alternative to the Ringstrassen chic.

Tickets available at shop.wienerlinien.atFor timetable enquiries and other information visit www.wienerlinien.at.Nightline/Underground

For night owls the underground operates on Fridays, Saturdays and public holidays around the clock. During the week you can use one of the several nightline busses. The busses operate in 30-minute intervals. As the schedule is quite complicated, please ask at your hostel or hotel for further information. You can get printed timetables at the wienextra-jugendinfo or online at: www.wienerlinien.at.

Airport links

<http://oebb.at/>

😊 Of course you can also take the bus or a taxi to the airport. The cheapest way to get there, however, is by using the S7 rapid transit railway line. Trains run every half hour from Wien Mitte railway station. The journey to the airport takes about 30 minutes. Tickets cost € 3,60; if you have a valid public transport ticket for Vienna, the price is only € 1,80.
